“Save the Flavor of Summer” at the Ocean County Library

TOMS RIVER – Summer may be winding down, but you can still preserve your homegrown vegetables and fruits. The Toms River Branch of the Ocean County Library, 101 Washington St., will host Joanne Kinsey from the Rutgers Cooperative Extension, at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 29.

Kinsey’s free program, “Save the Flavor of Summer” will include instructions on properly canning fresh produce. Participants will also create labels for future use in their own canning projects.

Registration is required. To register, call 732-349-6200 or visit theoceancountylibrary.org/events

Free parking is available daily after 5 p.m., in the top and middle levels of the Toms River parking garage located behind the library or anytime in the Ocean County parking garage on Hooper Avenue.
